

to capture the overall title. Alabama's most recent Hall of Fame inductee, he shot his first perfect 100 with the .410 bore.

The 22 shooters were from the Huntsville area, Birmingham, Muscle Shoals, Georgia and Tennessee, according to organizer Gary Hunter.

Skeet Championships.

Photo by Skip Vaughn

Retired Col. Mark Haughs, of the Engineering and Support Center, Huntsville, shoots during the 12-gauge round July 12 at the MARS Range. Looking on are referee Bill Hale and retired Maj. Larry Kruttsinger, Army Materiel Command deputy surety officer. Haughs and Kruttsinger are former members of the Army skeet team.

Taking it out to the ballgame

Members of the Greater Huntsville Section of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics attend the Huntsville Stars baseball game July 8 at Joe Davis Stadium. The Jackson Generals won the rain shortened game 7-4 in six innings. The Greater Huntsville Section of the AIAA works to provide a professional forum for the local aerospace community. For more information, visit www.hsv-aiaa.org or email distribution@hsv-aiaa.org.

Courtesy photo

In this section...

EXPENDABLES WRAP UP VICTORY WITH POWER DISPLAY

PAGE 38

ARMY/NASA SOFTBALL LEAGUE STANDINGS

PAGE 38

WYLE'S WINKLES WEARS OUT THE OPPOSITION

PAGE 39